SIXTH WARD DEMOCRATIC TICKET .- The following are the candidates in the Sixth ward For Councilmen, Richard Knott and Thomas Tracy; Night Watchman, Thos. McElvogue.

The bill for the suppression of polygamy in Utah has passed the Lower House Congress without much opposition. We don't know what disposition the Senate will make o the proposition; but we should not be surprised to see that body pass it. We think it just as well to test the constitutional power of Con grees to pass such laws on a bill of this sort as any other. Certainly the suppression of polygamy is desired by all parties and persons is these States; but the suppression of the nawarrantable pretentions of Congress is equally important. Where does that body find in the Federal Constitution the power to pass any law about marriage? If the power can be made out fairly by such constructions as are resorted to, then we see no limits to Federal power There is not a line or syllable in the Federa Constitution which can by any mode of tortus justify Congress in passing such a law. That body has no more power over a Territory than It has over a State; except as an incident to the power to admis new States; and who car pretend that it is necessary to make a law respecting marriage in order to admit a State into the Union? We have no patience with that sort of sophistry that would hang the power to make municipal laws on the power to admit a State into the Union. In the earlier days of Federalism an attempt was made in Congress to charter a mining company in New Jersey. Jefferson ridicaled the logic by which the power was made out. Congress had power to declare war; a navy was necessary in war brass was necessary to build ships; mines were necessary to make brass; and a chartered company was necessary to work mines. With the single exception of the little power necessary to admit a new State into the Union, the it is in a Terri ory; and a law of Congress rethan a law over the same subject in Kentucky. We have heard a great deal about strict construction, and the resolutions of 1798, but it is all forgotten when an end is to be accom-

We believe Congress is about the last body to reform the morals and manners of Utah or any place else. It is a lumbering, blundering concern, that seems better a lapted to spend money than anything else. The framers of the Constitution granted to the Federal Gov ernment a few powers; quite as many as such a body can usefully exercise It was never expected or designed that it should interfere with the domestic affairs of any com munity outside of the District of Columbia. The folly of such an act as has just passed is too apparent. Who will execute such a law A Mormon must be tried by a jury. It is not within the power of Congress to try him for any crime any other way; and will a Mormon jury ever convict him? The complaint respect ing Utah now is, not that there are not laws, but that the laws can't be executed; and it cuted, how will laws against polygamy be exe cuted? Besides, how easily is such a statut evaded? A second, third or fourth wife, may be called by some other name, and the abomnable practice of polygamy remain as it does elsewhere, and even in Washington. The Sainte in Utah can pay an outward respect to virtue and practice vice, after the fashion of honorables, who pass laws which, in spirit at least, condemn themselves, if they do escape the penalty. In our opinion, the abominable practice of polygamy will not be suppressed by laws of Congress; it is not a missionary society, and it had better abandon the Unixotic attempt to reform the morals of the Saints. I'olygamy will perish itself in time; but Congress will not put an end to it, or any other evil of the sort We greatly prefer the slow but effectual pro cees of moral and religious reform, than to tolerate an unwarrantable exercise of power by a body totally incompetent to execute the laws it makes.

When Congress organized the Territory of Utah, and perhaps at a later period, some ade. quate remedy might have been employed that would have been constitutional; but that community has grown into unmanageable propor-A population of a hundred thousand, with an organization and a will of their own, can't be controlled at the discretion of Congress. Experience has shown how impractal any interference is; and no ingenuity has yel invented a feasible remedy for a disgusting so cial institution, or any other evil complained of there. All the officers sent there are either accused of being Mormons, or they return to impossibility of accomplishing anything; and this act of one House of Congress is the most crude and foolieh attempt yet made. The Saints may laugh at it, and at the body that passed it, with perfect impunity.

"No SMOKING ALLOWED."—The Directors of the New York and Buffalo Telegraph Company some time since issued a general order pro-hibiting smoking by employees in the offices along the line, for what were deemed good and sufficient reasons. This has the effect of de-priving the operators of their principal sources of enjoyment, but they will, of course, submit with becoming grace. We understand of enjoyment, but they will, of course, submit with becoming grace. We understand the instructions are strictly obeyed in the office in this city. A Tale of Horror

A MURDERER'S DYING CONFESSION. George Acker was executed in Newark, New Jersey, last Friday, for the murder of Isaac II. Gordon. The following is the murderer's

CONFESSION It was in the afternoon of the 18th of Oc-ober, 1859, while Isaac II. Gordon and I were sitting upon the stoop of the Montville tavern, and he was telling me about his money, that the evil thought, instigated by the devil, and the liquor I had been drinking, first came into my mind, and I said within suyself, old fellow, I will waylay you, and have the money. I thought at the same time of the knife he car-owed. I met J. M. Vau Duyne and l'eter Van Droff, also John J. Norris and Miss Far-rand. I pulled up a stake near the saw mill, carried it a little ways and threw it down. Isaac H. Gordon came up. A taint struggle was in my heart. We walked on together till we reached the little woods. I could see no one. Ou reaching a heap of stones by the road side, I picked one up—my heart failed me, and I threw it down. Satan then said to me, go a head, you never will be found out, here is your place: I lifted another, said nothing, and throw it with all my might. It struck him just back of the ear. He fell up. struck him just back of the ear. He fell n on his face on the ground. I seized him at threw him over the fence. I picked up h dinner pail, and while he was insonsible, make sure work of it, I cut his throat. As was rilling his pockets, I heard people passing in the road. They could not see mic, nor them. I thrust my tingers into his pocket book, and whatever I found I stuck in m pocket, and put the pocket-book back into his pocket. What has become of the money upon my leg; and said to myself, there is a death-mark against me. I stooped down in the road, rubbed my hands in the dirt, looked to see if there were marks on the body, I saw none. At this time John J. Norris come from towards Montville. My hat blew off picked it up and started for Boonton. orris drove past me, when his last blew off. Norris drove past me, when his hat blew off. I picked it up, and stepping towards him with my guilty looks, handed it to him. He asked me to ride. I said no, I am going to take the tow-path at the bridge. As I passed up the tow-path the thought of the death-mark upon my leg was upon my mind, I must make way with the overalls. I shifted the things from the pocket, and think I put them in my panuloons or coat nocket. What ever became of loons or coat pocket. What ever became o the money I took from Israc II. Gordon, I do not know, I have never seen it since, it is when a little above the lock I went down by

I replied, "Down on a boat, playing eards, hoping to win some money She said, "George, can't you be persuaded leave off gambling?" I then finished my bo the of whisky and went to bed, but not sleep. The liquor did not so drown my sens bilities but that the thought of the crime to mented me all night. I wished that it was i my power to again give life to that poor old, noffensivo man.
In the morning I wanted liquor very much and sent my little boy to the tavern to get my bottle filled. I soou drank that, I ate but little breakfast. I went over to the mill, and talked with the miller. I felt wretchedly, an began to cry. A customer came in, and I wen home. My wife asked, "What is the matter." replied, "Landon has been talking religion o me," I soon went to sleep in the rocking-hair. Hiram Van Duyne came about ten clock for me to go to work for him about an

She, bursting into with a half dollar, and said, here, take it you think more of the Provest than you do of your family, give it to him. The boy soon returned with the whisky. We drank, and wout to the field to work. I came home a noon and emptied the bottle. I saw not another sober hour until I was beyond the reach of that destroyer of soul and body, confined in this prison. I drank, not only because I loved it, but

I not only looked guilty, but I felt guilty when the body of Isaac Il. Gordon was exhumed from that sand pit, where I had buried it more than a week before. The Franklin, Indiania, Jeffersouia has issued an extra, giving the facts elicited before the Coroner's jury in the case of the murder of Anthon Wachter by Thomas Wright who is said to be of this city. They do not differ from the telegraphic account. Wackter fectioneries, nuts, foreign fruits of every kept a saloon. Wright broke in the windows of Wachter's house late at night, and started for the depot to take a train. Wachter was letermined to have him arrested, and followed with a warrant. They got into an altercation, and Wright inflicted two fatal wounds upon Wachter with a knife. Several pistol shots were fired in the melee, and Wright was slightly wounded. Both parties, the murdered man and the murderer, have been residents of this city, and are known to many here. Wright has been noted for his careless use of firearms and came near ending the life of one of his friends in a saloon in Indianapolis, by a pisto sall, when intoxicated. The jury found that "Thomes Wright did nnlawfully kill said Anthon Wachter, with a knife, voluntarily and upon sudden heat, in the county of Johuson, and State of Indiana." The Jeffersonian says it is the first affair of the kind that ever occurred in Franklin. BUINGLES. Messrs. Breeden & Bradley have on hand a large lot of doors, sash, blinds, boxes, &c., at their warerooms, on First street, between Main and the river, and they are prepared to execute all orders for woodwork nec-essary for the inside finish of frame or brick houses of every description, as heretofore. They invite special attention to the large stock of well-seasoned pine lumber and shingles at their yard on Walnut street, between East and Floyd. They furnish bills of prices on application, and solicit orders in their line.

the stock of dry lumber, sash, doors, blinds, Ac., will fall short, owing to the vast amount of improvements in Louisville, it will be interesting to the public to know that Alexander, Ellis & Co., have enlarged their factory and have now on hand several million of dry lumber. Call at their office on Main street, marly east side of East street, from Lafayette to opposite the Galt House, or at their factory on Walnut street; Fulton, above Preston street.

attention of the visitors to Louisville at the present time, is the great trunk manufactory and emperium of J. H. McCleary, on the Lortheast corner of Fourth and Main streets. His large manufactory enables him to supply trunks, valises, bounet and hat boxes, carpet bags, bureau trunks, etc., of the very best quality, at unprecedented low prices. All of Mr. McCleary's work is beautiful as well as durable goods. Give him a call.

Look to Your Interests. The people are aware that D. O'Hare, No 627 Main street, is the oldest, largest and most experienced manufacturer of trunks and simithemselves of the rare opportunities afforded by Mr. O'Hare. To country and city merchants he offers peculiar advantages in his wholesale department, while in the retail line he cannot be equaled. Whoever wants to gravel, whether with a small carpet-bag or a mammoth trunk, need go no further than to the Great Western Trunk Factory of Mr. O'Hare. His manufactory is a credit to Louisville, and should meet with extensive patronage. Hun-dreds of workmen are employed, and thousands of dellars weekly disbursed. As a matter of thome pride, and to subserve economy, pur-chasers will consult their best interests in pur-chasing of Mr. O'Hare.

BARRY's TRICOPHEROUS is the best and cheapest article for dressing, beautifying, cleansing, curling, preserving and restoring the bair. Ladies, try it. Sold by all Druggists and Perfumers. mrl6 d6m

FIRE FURRITURE.-Wharton & Bennett keep constantly on hand a large stock of desirable parlor, office and chamber furniture, of all kinds and patterns which they sell at their wareroom at the lowest prices. Their store is Nos. 502 and 504 Market street, between Second and Third.

Hoor SKIRTS .- John M. Robinson & Co. are now manufacturing a large stock for the rels capacity Spring trade. Their Skirts have attained great popularity, as they use only the very best tempered watch spring steel, and each hoop is fastened to the tapes by means of a Thus effectually preventing the annoyance of the tapes being constantly cut. Their skirtteam be had at all the retail houses throughout he South and West. Sold only at wholesale.
